

HMC sets course for the future

Information for patients HMC Bronovo

What changes can you expect in the short term?

Haaglanden Medical Centre (HMC) stands for good care to residents of the Haaglanden region, both now and in the future.

HMC provides acute and complex treatments, for planned operations, oncological and chronic care. More often you will get care, from us too, at home or in your neighbourhood. To accomplish this, we will be increasing our collaboration with general practitioners, home care organisations and other care providers in your neighbourhood.

Wherever you are, you can count on high-quality care from your trusted doctor, nurse and medical team. We are always nearby.

HMC Bronovo will remain open five days a week the coming years

Around 1 July this year, HMC Bronovo will be transformed into a weekday hospital. In the coming years, the hospital will be open for all outpatient procedures from Monday to Friday. You can visit your trusted care provider, for example for an ultrasound or pregnancy check with your gynaecologist. Planned operations, such as knee, eye, inguinal hernia or gallbladder surgery, will also be scheduled at HMC Bronovo.

Emergency care will be provided at HMC Westeinde

As of this summer, all emergency care will be provided at HMC Westeinde.

This includes childbirth. There will be a gynaecologist and paediatrician permanently on standby, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

We will announce the exact date on which the emergency care and mother and child care will move from HMC Bronovo to HMC Westeinde as soon as we know.
